

Crossover

A Large Group “Getting-to-Know-You” Game

See below for ways to make this game even better!

“Cross over the circle if... (and everyone else applauds them) this is your first time ever in the United States (if you have International Staff) this your first time ever being at this camp this is your first time ever being a camp counselor at this camp you were born in Hawaii you were born on the Mainland and moved here you went to this camp yourself as a camper you played at being a super hero when a child you were ever homesick at some point as a child you had a dog (some other, even exotic) for a pet as a child you had a serious collection (coins, stamps, stickers, baseball cards, etc.)

you ever thought when you were a child you might have been secretly adopted you had perfect attendance in school you played or sang a solo in front of a live audience you speak a language other than English fluently you have had a piece of music, a photograph or a piece of writing published you have ever been to Africa you have ever performed in Carnegie Hall you ever sneaked out of the house without parents knowing when a teen you ever drove a car before you had your driver's license you ever worked in food service as a cook, busboy, waiter or waitress you ever forgot your parents birthday you were ever on a sports team that was in a state championship final round you ever worked with a child who was very homesick you ever worked with a child who was sick and threw up on you you ever worked with a child who hit or bit you you... ever met a US President ...were ever on national TV ever went sky diving ...ever went up in a hot air balloon ever drove a race car on a track ...ever played in a major league sports arena ever worked at Mac Donald's ...were ever a bee-keeper can walk on your hands ...ever published an article, photo, music, etc.

ever sent an e-mail text or “post” to someone and as soon as you hit the “send” button you realized you sent it to the wrong person (and it caused drama!)

☞the absolute best thing you can do in this game is look over your staff's applications and cull them for talents, hobbies or experiences you can use to recognize them!